For the present at least non-essential industries will not be invaded for service in war production plants. Immediate and drastic action is asked by the State Council and men who are not regularly employed will be immediately reported and urged to get to some plant, failing in which they will be taken personally before the local draft board and the draft board requested to induct them into service under the work or fight order.

By direction of Governor Williams, Mr. Eugene Kerr, executive draft officer, has instructed all draft boards to issue the proper form for all men brought to them by the police or county councils of defense upon their status being determined. The possession of property is not sufficient reason why men should be idle during this crisis.

Official information shows that 139,000 unskilled workmen are required to carry on the operations of large plants which are expected to furnish the American army with high explosives which are essential to American victory, large supplies of these having been destroyed in the recent destruction of eastern plants.

COLORED MAN PROTEST TO LABOR DEPARTMENT AGAINST RACE DISCRIMINATION

Colored Man Responds to Government's Call For Mechanics And is Told "Only White Men are Wanted"

Muskogee, Oklahoma, Oct. 11.

Department of Labor, Washington, D. C. Honorable Sirs:—

First, I desire to state that I am a mechanic, having followed my trade for twenty-five years, and a contractor and builder, and feel that I am as good along my line as any man in the United States; I am not just talking, but can furnish reference as to my worth as a mechanic.

What I am trying to convey is, I have offered my services to the local board at Tulsa three different times and on each occasion I have been rejected on the ground that only white men are being employed by said board for the government.

This board has a sign out which reads: "Brick layers, Plumbers and Carpenters etc., Wanted." They were kind enough to offer to "ship" me as a common laborer, but I figure I am worth more to the government since no one will question my worth as a mechanic. If the colored race can not get recognition through your board at Tulsa, then the government should give us a man of our own race to look after such matters.

I am still ready and over anxious to offer my services to my country as a mechanic, and along with me I can carry a number of other colored mechanics.

I trust you honorable gentlemen will give me a reply to my communication at once.

Yours very truly,

Green Smith,
1015 South Third Street,
Muskogee, Oklahoma

IS ATLANTA PLACE TO LOCATE RACE'S GREATEST ENTERPRISE?

To the proposition to found and establish Race's Citizens Trust company, we bow our heads in unqualified assent and say three cheers for the promoters. It is indeed an opportune time for the Negro business man to get hold of smaller business and organize it into effective channels for constructive achievements in the business world.

Nothing is revealing more the economic progress of the Race than the various campaigns now being conducted by the government contingent upon the Negro.

The Negro, while all together too extravagant in the main has been remarkably thrifty, despite many handicaps in the avenues of industry and big business and I venture to say that with constructive organization, the black man will yet surprise this nation in the field of big business. But back to our text: could we feel safe in locating such an institution in the place now being mentioned? With no disparagement to our good friends who reside in this section, to continually ignore such outrages that have befallen this section is calculated to do nothing less than to perpetuate this condition among them. The best friends of the race expect nothing less of us than to resent these outrages and are utterly disappointed when we fail to do so.

Let us have the organization, but at the same time, let us put some premium upon communities which have a better record for law and order and the common rights of the universal citizen.—African Methodist.

Rev. C. L. Netherland gave us some job printing this week.

Bishop H. B. Parks is quoted as preaching brother, that "This is an age of intelligence. And unless a candidate for the ministry brings along a plenty of it, his name is denied." That is a fine sentiment. But the Bishop should have gone a step further and added "good character."—Portland Advocate.

CHICAGO STAGE NOTES

(By Sylvester Russell.)

Tom Brown, the well known actor of the Lafayette Stock company is ill in New York city.

George Berry husband of former Mrs. Daddy Love, died last week. The K. of P. band turned out.

C. J. Jackson, the well known popular jeweler, was master of ceremonies of the Walter A. M. E. Zion church banquet given by the Social club of the church. Mr. Jackson is a diamond broker and receives orders by mail at his office.

The Johannas Josselson Icelandic troupe closed with a circus here and will sail immediately for Cuba. Samuel Newman, the colored member, a foot and leg wrestler is a wonderful athlete. He was the first athlete to introduce the secret sport known as "Gilma" in his country in 1908.

Kid Checkers, the colored actor soldier, whose name in private life is Sylvester Meyers, who was transferred from the American Expedition forces to the Canadian army in France where he killed ten Germans, suffers both from wounds and gas poisoning from which the doctors say he will not recover and is due to die in 12 days. The wonder of it all is that he is around every day with the actors having a merry time every day as happy as can be and says he feels better than on the day of his arrival.

DUNCAN & CLINTON

The Boley Progress, referring to a visit of a Tulsan to that town says:

Mr. Andrew McGregor of Tulsa, Okla., was one of the visitors to the state fair. He was one of the promoters in the way of selling whips, walking canes and many other fancies. During his stay, he stopped at Mrs. C. E. Sayles, where everything was as fine as it could be in the way of sleeping and he took meals at the City Cafe. He declared that it was the best cooked food, and the people at that place were more social than any place he had ever gone. He declared that he shall never forget Mrs. C. E. Sayles and the people of the City Cafe.

THE KILLING OF TWO NEGRO WOMEN

this week by a vicious and ignorant Italian grocery man because they refused to accept goods they did not want is another logical reason, if any more were needed, why Negroes should learn to patronize their own places of business.—Kansas City Sun.

SOLDIER BOY'S TALK

Tulsa Star:

Gentlemen:

The Tulsa Star gives me more courage than all other papers throughout the country. I lack words to make clear my appreciation of your statement about "Old Vardamon," but I have been wondering and thinking if I go to France and get back, will things be better? Will I have a white man's chance, too. If I go over and fight the huns every inch without fail, will my brother I left behind be lynched without a trial.

If while I am helping to lick the huns will my old father be marched to a tree and roped by a mob with guns.

If I go over and lick twenty-five huns and should I die before I get back, will my poor old mother be Jim-crowed because she is black?

If I go over and do my bit and while I am away my sister boards a street car and sits down beside a white girl, will the white girl turn up her nose and have a fit?

If I go over and help give the kaiser hell, of which every second he is now getting, will I see at night in a vision the sparks going up from my old home that southern ruffians are burning.

Wrote by PRIVATE NORMAN HIGGS, Camp Dodge, Ia. Co. L. Delevement Bn. No. 2.

We want 20 small boys to sell the Star each day; we allow them one-half of all they make. It is true, there is not much money in it, but it beats loafing, and too, it is a primary lesson in business for your child. Send them to the office and let us
